MORT: Good evening, and welcome to Sodom News Now. I'm Mort Gondor. In the news this evening, police have arrested a man for allegedly having one one wife and being monogamous. For more on that story, we go to field reporter Angela Brady. Angela?

ANGELA: Mort, police say that Jim Calhoun, a banker who lives on the lower east side, has had intimate relations with only one woman, his wife Diane, for the last three years. What's more, police allege that Mort has kept his wife from having any extramarital relations as well. Both charges are in clear violation of the Free Love For All Act of 3032 BC. If convicted, Mort and his wife will be separated and sent to half way houses of ill repute for rehabilitation. Mort?

MORT: Thank you, Angela. In other news, the city council voted unanimously to lower the drinking age to four. Activists had hoped that the council would drop the drinking age all the way down to two, but consider this a victory no less. In sports, after a long investigation the Palestine Football League has confirmed that Coach Bixby of the Gomorrah Gargoyles has been secretly taping opponents practices for years. The Gomorrah Gargoyles responded to the news by giving Bixby a three year contract extension and a sixty percent raise. Now with the weather, here's Glen Hasselmeyer.

GLEN: Thanks Mort. Well another lovely day today in Sodom and Gomorrah with temperatures in the low 70's this afternoon. Lots of folks taking advantage of the good weather by going down to the park to do basically whatever they wanted with one another, if you know what I mean. Had a nice time with some high school kids myself. Tonight's low around 55 under cloudy skies. Tomorrow we'll have a beautiful start, high of 70 around noon time, with a 90% chance of rain and fiery sulfur tomorrow evening. Mort?

MORT: Still to come, the mayor is caught having another affair. We'll have all the juicy details and photos after this word.
